

Volleyball Canada Nationals

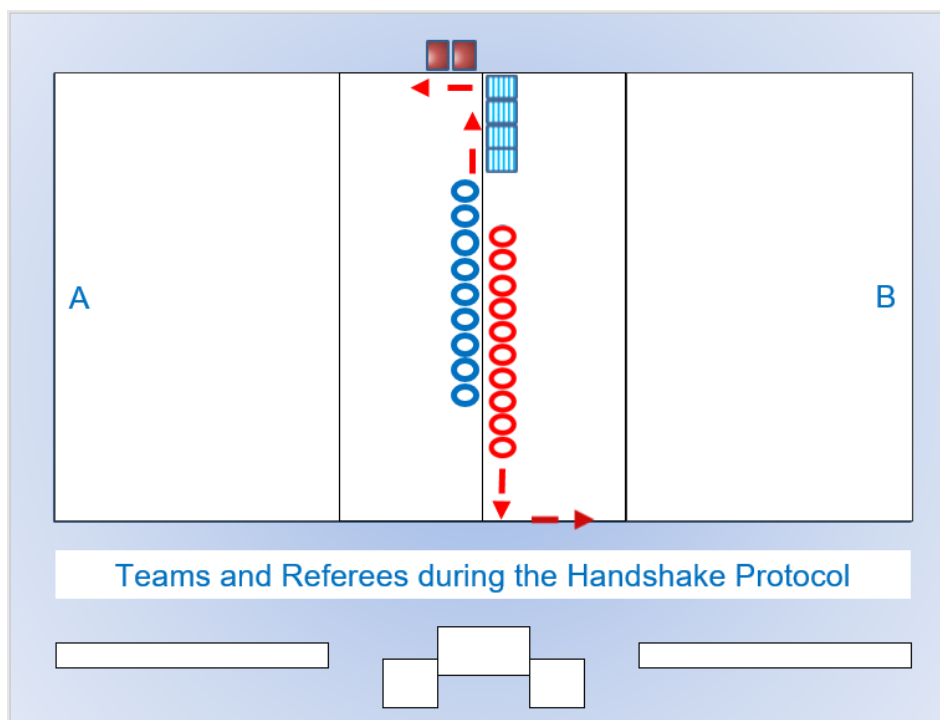

Handshake Protocol

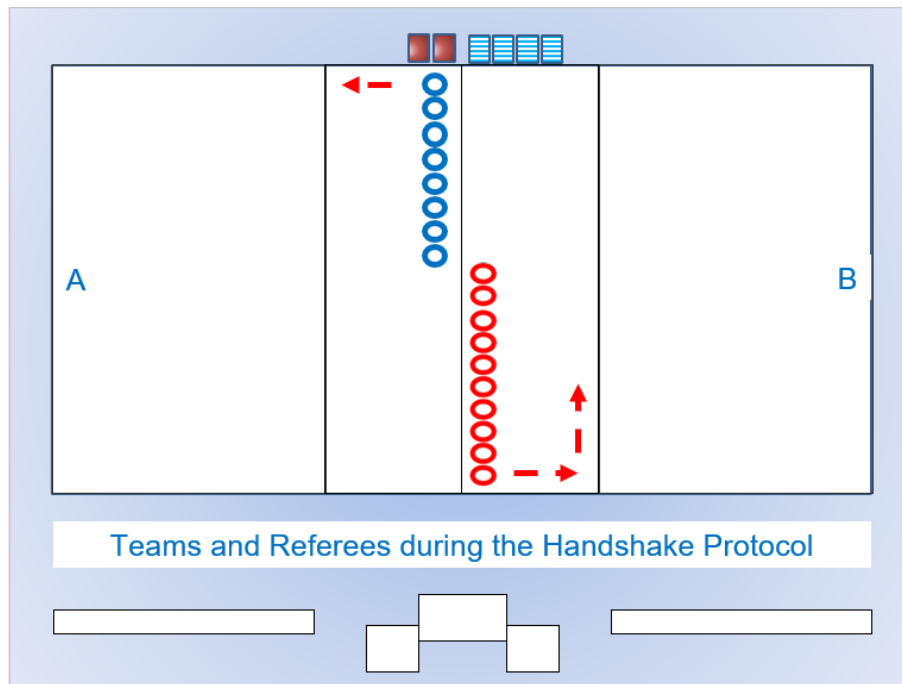

- Following the last rally of the match, teams will move immediately to their end line:
- At the direction for the first referee, both teams will move in single file towards the net and walk towards the referees and opposing team.
- The first and second referee will step into the court to shake hands with side B
*Should the match include Line Judges, Team B will shake hands with the Line Judges first.

- Teams will walk towards each other along the net and shake hands

- Once the lead member on side A has shaken the hand of the last team member on side B, they will proceed to shake the hands of the Referees (and Line Judges should they be included in the match).

- After the last handshake, the teams will proceed to their benches to gather equipment and leave the playing area.
